Arista Networks Universal Cloud Networking Overview

Thursday, 24 September 2020 18:10 (30 minutes)

Automation is the key for simplifying network operations from provisioning to day-to-day management. Where manual processes require resources to scale linearly with the network, automation tools amplify the work of each network operations engineer. Simultaneously, the programmatic operation of the network means that it is faster to provision new policies and services in the network.

Presenter: Mr PORAT, Yonatan (System Engineer, Arista Networks.)
